Art Unit: 2833

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ruth 6352447.

Disclosed are socket housing 40, extension wires 51, insertion openings 50, container 10 which is shown as being attached to the upper (rear) surface of the socket housing, and which can cover the lower (front) surface of the socket housing; notch 26, and flange body 22. At least one of the wires 50 could be at least partially coiled in the container if desired.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ruth as applied to claims 1-4 above, and further in view of Huang 6428184.

Ruth substantially discloses the claimed invention with the exception of a hook on the container. Huang discloses hooks 51. It would have been obvious to provide container 10 of Ruth with hooks, as taught by Huang, to facilitate mounting to a desired surface.
